

Lehman College's Leonard Lief Library
Anthropology and Center for Human Rights and Peace Studies invite you to

Innovation:

Engaged Scholarship: Embracing Our Role as Public Scholars

Thursday, November 8, 2018

12:30 - 2:00 PM

Library – Atrium, 2nd Floor

CUNY faculty representing a range of disciplines will present their recent scholarship and how it impacts both local and global communities in order to effect positive social change

Opening Remarks – The Engaged Observer

Victoria Sanford, PhD, Professor and Chair, Anthropology, Lehman College; Director, Center for Human Rights and Peace Studies; Doctoral faculty, CUNY Graduate Center

Moderator and Concluding Remarks

Rima Brusi, PhD, Writer-in-Residence, Center for Human Rights and Peace Studies, Lehman College

Panelists

- Dána-Ain Davis, MPH, PhD, Professor; Director, Center for the Study of Women and Society; Doctoral faculty, Anthropology and Critical Psychology, CUNY Graduate Center
- Michelle Fine, PhD, Distinguished Professor, Critical Psychology, Women's Studies, American Studies, and Urban Education, CUNY Graduate Center
- Yuri Gorokhovich, PhD, Associate Professor, Earth, Environmental, and Geospatial Sciences, Lehman College

RSVP by November 1st: Engaged Scholarship Registration
Information: Rebecca.Arzola@lehman.cuny.edu, 718-960-8831

Light Lunch will be served